BEST WISHES FOR THE NEW YEAR

I want to take this opportunity to extend our best wishes to you and your family for a healthy, happy, and prosperous 2019. We look forward to continuing to provide safe and reliable electric service to our members in the New Year. We enter 2019 with the continued goal of being your local trusted energy provider and to go beyond the traditional utility role to not only meet your needs, but exceed your expectations.

2019 will no doubt be filled with challenges and opportunities. To help us stay ahead of the curve, our board of directors and staff will conduct a strategic planning session to help us set priorities and focus our energy and resources on what is most important. We typically conduct strategic planning on a three-to-five-year basis and are looking forward to a productive session in 2019.

Our 2019 annual meeting will be held in April at the Iola-Scandinavia High School auditorium. While this is months away, it has been awhile since our annual meeting was held in Iola. We look forward to holding the meeting in Iola and re-connecting with members in the area. As we did in 2018, the annual meeting will be held on a weekday evening. More information on the meeting will be provided in future editions of this magazine.

Our 2019 budget consists of improvements to the technology we use and a review of our business software procedures and practices. In addition, you will see our crews and contractors in the field replacing poles, clearing rights-of-way, and inspecting our electric distribution facilities. As always, safety will be a priority as we develop our annual safety improvement plan and a training program for the first responders in our area who respond to accidents involving downed utility lines.

they are kept clear they also provide safe access for line crews to maintain, repair, or improve the lines and poles. CWEC uses a Vegetation Management Program to keep the rights-of-way clear of undesirable vegetation.

Why Do We Clear Rights-of-Way? To maintain reliability and shorten the length of outages, and to provide for public safety and the safety of the workers who need to work on the utility lines.

Who Does the Clearing? Tree contractors that work on CWEC’s electric distribution system are qualified and insured to do this work.

What is the Hazard Tree Program? CWEC has a Hazard Tree Program that identifies trees outside of the 30-foot right-of-way (15 feet on either side of the line) and removes them if they are deemed a threat to fall on power lines.

Where is Vegetation Management Happening in My Area?

2019 CWEC Vegetation Management operations are happening on – Tigerton Circuit 1 (Northeast of Tigerton), Groenier Circuit 2 (East of Shantytown), Groenier Circuit 3 (South of Shantytown), and Almon Circuit 1 (Stockbridge Area).

What is an Integrated Vegetation Management Program?

Two years after cutting and trimming, a contractor will survey for possible selective herbicide application. Not all areas that are cut are appropriate for herbicide application. CWEC uses herbicides to control the amount of brush that sprouts from hardwood species that were cut. Once a single stem has been cut, it may sprout into as many as 15 new stems that grow rapidly. The selective herbicide application targets only these species.

Clearing the Way for Safety Have you ever noticed the bucket trucks or machines clearing brush by the power lines? They do the important job of helping keep the lights on long before a storm rolls in. In the battle against power outages, vegetation management is the Central Wisconsin Electric Cooperative’s most effective weapon.

Below we’ve provided answers to the questions we get most often in an effort to explain Central Wisconsin Electric Cooperative’s Vegetation Management Program.

What is a Vegetation Management Program? Our Vegetation Management Program is the process we use to clear trees/vegetation using chainsaws, bucket trucks, tree climbers, brush chippers, and mowers to keep our rights-of-way clear.

What are Rights-of-Way? A right-of-way is a corridor or pathway of land that CWEC’s electric lines follow. These rights-of-way provide CWEC an operational safety zone between the wires and trees, buildings, or other objects. When

YOU'RE INVITED

To improve communication among our members, the board of directors, and employees, and to assist in obtaining member input, your cooperative formed a Member Advisory Group (MAG) approximately a year ago. This group of 18 CWEC members has given valuable input on a variety of topics.

If you’re a member in good standing and are interested in helping guide your cooperative, we’d love to have you be a part of this group.

As a MAG member you will be asked to seek information and opinions from your fellow district members, serve to facilitate communications between the cooperative and its members, and make suggestions and recommendations to the board of directors and staff.

MAG members are appointed by the co-op’s board of directors to serve a three-year term. Meetings are held two or three times a year. MAG members are encouraged to bring a guest (spouse, friend, or neighbor) with them to the meetings. While no compensation is paid, members are reimbursed for mileage.

If you’re interested in becoming a Member Advisory Group member, please complete the form below and return it to the address listed. If you have any questions, please call Brenda at 800-377-2932 or email brenda.mazemke@cwecoop.com.
